

Networked Interactive Digital Signage Solution

Reliable, solid state units have a standard 10/100 Base-T network interface and can be connected to DHCP networks or configured with static IP. Connects automatically to our optional online Central Management Server or can be controlled from a network via HTTP or control command interface through Telnet/SSH. Built in drivers for touchscreens allow you to create engaging interactive content without complex application development. Playback can also be controlled by sending control strings through RS-232 or Ethernet.
